Alliance Sensors Group and Component Distributors Inc Partner in North American Distribution Deal

Moorestown, New Jersey, May 13, 2015...Alliance Sensors Group a div of H.G. Schaevitz LLC is proud to announce its partnership with Component Distributors Inc (www.cdiweb.com) to distribute its in-cylinder LVIT linear position sensors throughout North America. ASG's LVIT in-cylinder sensors were designed for the fluid power, mobile hydraulic, and off road vehicle markets and offer the flexibility/performance of an inductive contactless sensor with the ruggedness commonly found in resistive style sensors. The product line has both port-mount and embedded versions with numerous analog outputs and requires no magnet to operate.

"I have had the pleasure of working with CDI numerous times in the past," says John Matlack VP of sales and marketing for Alliance Sensors Group. "Their professionalism and customer service are second to none and we at ASG are extremely excited about being able to partner with such a notable organization."

Component Distributors Inc. (CDI) is a value added distributor of Metrology, and Position Feedback Sensors, as well as Power, RF, Microwave, and Wireless products for simple to complex system applications.
